

Presentation title:

Future plans & collaborations in support of evidence-based policing

Speaker: James Burch (National Policing Institute, USA)

The President of the Institute, Mr. James H. Burch, II, will review the history, purpose, goals, and future directions of the National Policing Institute, which aims to serve as an evidence-generator and champion for evidence-based policing and reforms. President Burch will also discuss the Institute's ongoing planning of an American College of Policing and the Institute's desire to support and engage in global research and practice collaborations.